HOW WE USE YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We ensure that your personal data is processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner for the following purposes and on the following lawful bases:

1. Performance of a Contract

We process personal data in order to provide our services and products, as well as information regarding our products and services based on the contractual relationship with our clients. In addition, processing of personal data takes place to be able to complete our client on-boarding/acceptance procedures.

In view of the above, we need to verify your identity in order to accept you as our client and we will need to use those details in order to effectively manage your trading account with us to ensure that you are getting the best possible service from us. This may include third parties carrying out credit or identity checks on our behalf. The use of your personal information is necessary for us to know who you are as we have a legal obligation to comply with certain 'Know Your Customer' and 'Customer Due Diligence' regulatory obligations.

2. Compliance with a legal obligation

The processing of your personal data is necessary for compliance with our legal obligations emanating from a variety of laws to which we are subject, for the following, inter alia purposes: identification and verification procedures, anti-money laundering assessments, the retention of personal data for a specified time frame and the disclosure of personal data to the supervisory authority or other regulatory authorities.

We kindly inform you that the provision of your personal data is a requirement necessary to enter into a business relationship with our Company and to provide you with the requested services. Moreover, we are legally and contractually required to provide and keep your personal data up to date and accurate. Therefore, please note that if you do not provide us with any personal data we request, our business relationship cannot be commenced or continued, since compliance with our legal obligations will be deemed impossible.

3. Through Consent

When you provide us with specific consent for processing i.e. for marketing purposes, then the lawfulness of such processing is based on that consent. You have the right to revoke consent at any time. However, any processing of personal data prior to the receipt of your revocation will not be affected.

4. Safeguarding legitimate interests

The processing of your personal data is necessary to safeguard the legitimate interests pursued by us or by a third party. A legitimate interest is when we have a business or commercial reason to use your information. Even in such case, it must be fair, right and best for you.

HOW WE SHARE YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We shall not disclose any of its clients' confidential information to a third party, except:

- i. to the extent that it is required to do so by under and/or pursuant to any Applicable Laws, Rules and/or Regulations;
- ii. where there is a duty to the public to disclose;
- iii. where our legitimate business interests require disclosure; or
- iv. at your request or with your consent to the parties described below.

Under such circumstances, the Company shall expressly inform the third party regarding the confidential nature of any such information. As part of using your personal data for the purposes set out above, the Company may disclose your personal information to the following:

- ❖ between and among the Company and our current and future parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, and other companies under common control and ownership;
- ❖ our Associates, for business purposes, including certain third parties such as service providers and specialist advisers who have been contracted to provide us with administrative, financial, legal, insurance, research or other services;
- ❖ business introducers with whom we have a mutual business relationship;
- ❖ business parties such as payment service providers, credit institutions, IT hosting companies, credit reference agencies
- ❖ courts, tribunals, public and regulatory authorities as agreed or authorised by law; and
- ❖ anyone authorised by you.

In the event that the Company discloses your personal information to business parties, such as card processing companies or banks, in order to perform the services requested by clients, such third parties may store your information in order to comply with their legal and other obligations. Also, third party service providers such as credit referencing agencies (if and when applicable) may keep a record of any searches performed on our behalf and may use the search details to assist other companies in performing their searches. Please note that the use of your personal information by external third parties who act as data controllers of your personal information is not covered by this Privacy Policy and is not subject to our privacy standards and procedures.

Generally, we require that organisations who handle or obtain personal information to acknowledge the confidentiality of this information, undertake to respect any individual's right to privacy and comply with the all relevant data protection laws and this Privacy Policy.

TRANSFER OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION TO OTHER COUNTRIES

When using our services, your data is processed and stored in the EU and other countries outside the European Economic Area ("EEA"). To the extent we transfer your information outside the EEA, we will ensure that the transfer is lawful and that we and our service providers in third countries are obligated to comply and provide appropriate safeguards in relation to the transfer of your data in accordance with GDPR.

In view of the above, your personal information may be processed by staff operating outside the EEA who work for us or the service providers. Such staff may be, among others, engaged in the fulfilment of your requests, the processing of your payment details and the provision of support services. By submitting your personal data, you agree to this transfer, storing and processing. The Company will take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data receives an adequate level of protection in the jurisdictions in which are processed.

We provide adequate protection for the transfer of personal data to countries outside of the EEA through a series of intercompany agreements based on the Standard Contractual Clauses authorized under EU law or other appropriate safeguards such as binding corporate rules to ensure that the transfer will be in compliance with the requirements of the GDPR.

STORAGE AND RETENTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

Safeguarding your privacy is important to us, whether you interact with us personally, by phone, by mail, over the internet or any other electronic medium. We will hold personal information, for as long as necessary for the purpose(s) for which we originally collected it, or for other legitimate business purposes, including to meet our legal, regulatory, or other compliance obligations. The recordkeeping is in a combination of secure computer storage facilities and paper-based files and other records and we take the necessary measures to protect the personal information we hold from misuse, loss, unauthorized access, modification or disclosure.

When we consider that personal information is no longer necessary for the purpose for which it was collected, we will remove any details that will identify you or we will securely destroy the records. However, we may need to maintain records for a significant period of time, i.e. we are subject to certain anti-money laundering laws which require us to retain the following, for a period of five (5) years after our business relationship with you has ended. or if requested by the FSA for a longer period.

SECURITY

The personal information you provide us with when registering yourself as a user of our Website and/or of our services is classified as registered information, which is protected in several different ways. You can access your registered information after logging in to the Members Area by entering your username and your password. It is your responsibility to make sure that your password is only known to you and not disclosed to anyone else. Registered information is securely stored in a safe location and only authorised personnel have access to it via a username and a password. All personal information is transferred to the Company over a secure 128-bit SSL connection and thus all necessary measures are taken to prevent unauthorised parties from viewing any such information. Personal information provided to the Company that does not classify as registered information is also kept in a safe place and accessible by authorised personnel only via a username and a password.

Transmission of information via the internet is not always completely secure but we endeavor to protect your personal data by taking serious precautions. Once we have received your information, we will apply procedures and security features to try to prevent unauthorized access.

The Company shall not be liable for unlawful or unauthorised use of any personal information due to misuse or misplacement of the passwords, negligent or malicious use.

MARKETING & PERSONAL DATA

Where we have your consent to do so (e.g. if you have subscribed to our newsletter), we send you marketing communications by email or phone or other agreed forms (including social media campaigns) to ensure that you are always up to date with the latest products and services. You can 'opt-out' of such communications if you would prefer not to receive them in the future at any time by clicking the "unsubscribe" link in the footer of any such email communication you receive from us, or by contacting us at support@errante.com. In doing so you exercise your right to withdraw your consent without affecting the lawfulness of the processing based on consent before withdrawal.

COOKIES

Cookies are frequently used on many websites on the internet, and you can choose if and how a cookie will be accepted by changing your preferences and options in your browser. You may not be able to access some parts of our website(s) if you choose to disable the cookie acceptance in your browser, particularly in the Members Area and other secure parts of our website(s).

Periodically, we may use third party vendors, such as Google, to display our ads over the internet to you, based on your previous use of our website(s). You can opt out of this particular use of cookies at any time by visiting Google's Ads Settings page.

For more information on how we use cookies see our Cookie Policy.

YOUR RIGHTS

Your rights regarding your personal information which we are committed to facilitating the exercise of those rights and how you can exercise them, are specified below:

i. Access to personal information

If you ask, we will confirm whether we are processing your personal information. If we do, then if requested we can provide a copy of what information we process within thirty (30) days from the date of your request.

ii. Rectification of personal information

If the personal information we hold about you is inaccurate or incomplete, you are entitled to have it rectified. If we have disclosed your personal information to others, we will let them know about the rectification where possible. If you ask us, where possible and lawful to do so, we will also inform you who we have shared your personal information with so that you can contact them directly.

You shall inform us at any time that your personal details have changed by email at backoffice@errante.com. The Company will update your personal information in accordance with your instructions. To proceed with such requests, in some cases we may need supporting documents from you as proof, i.e. personal information that we are required to keep for regulatory or legal purposes.

iii. Deletion of personal information

If you request us to delete your personal data, subject to certain criteria to being fulfilled where, for instance, your personal data is no longer required in relation to the purposes for which they were originally collected or otherwise processed or you have withdrawn consent (where applicable) provided that we have no legal obligation to retain the data, we will delete them the soonest possible. If we have disclosed your personal information to others, we will let them know about the erasure where possible. If you ask us, where possible and lawful to do so, we will also inform you who we have shared your personal information with so that you can contact them directly.

iv. Restrictions of Processing

You can request us to restrict our processing activities where certain conditions shall be satisfied, including without limitation, the case where the processing is unlawful, and you oppose the processing of the personal data and request the restriction of their use instead. It will not stop us from storing your personal information though. We will inform you before we waive any restriction. If we have disclosed your personal information to others, we will inform about the restriction where possible. If you ask us, where possible and lawful to do so, we will also tell you who we have shared your personal information with so that you can contact them directly.

v. Portability of data

You have the right to receive your personal data which you provided us in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and to transmit this elsewhere or ask us to transfer them to another data controller, to the extent applicable.

vi. Objection / opt-out

You can ask us to stop processing your personal information, and we will do so, if we are:

- relying on our own or someone else's legitimate interests to process your personal information except if we can demonstrate compelling legal grounds for the processing; or
- processing your personal information for direct marketing.

Any withdrawal of consent shall not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before it was withdrawn by you.

Should you want us not to use your personal information, you must inform us via email to support@errante.com. If you decide to do so, we may not be able to continue to provide information, services and/or products requested by you and we will have no liability to you in this respect.
